This training supports the implementation of the evidence-based Signs of Suicide (SOS) program. This training is provided free of charge thanks to the Will to Live Foundation.

This half-day training prepares individuals to provide suicide prevention education and mental health screening for their students using the SOS program. The training walks participants through program materials and the implementation planning process, as well as how to engage other trusted adults in their school and community. The goal of the training is to ensure schools are ready to implement an evidence-based suicide prevention program with fidelity.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Facilitating a classroom discussion about depression and suicide with 6th-12th graders
- Administering a universal depression screening and following up with identified students
- Providing basic youth suicide prevention training for teachers and school staff
- Coordinating with school administration and community partners for support
- Communicating with parents as partners in prevention
